

understand the expectations for efficiency, transparency and accountability in the investment of funds.”

The OERI Web site www.NCRecovery.gov details the role of the N.C. Office of Economic Recovery and Investment as the official coordinator, monitor and clearinghouse for federal economic recovery funds designated for the state. Workshop details are available at the site.

Additional workshops will be held in Greenville, Charlotte, Raleigh and Wilmington in the next few weeks. Details will be announced soon. The first workshop was held April 28 in Winston-Salem.

###